New to Honours Boards? Start Here!

We understand that purchasing an honours board often involves presenting the idea to a committee.

This brochure is designed to provide you with all the information you need to confidently address questions, highlight the key points, and outline the process. Our goal is ensure you are fully prepared and are able to answer any questions, and if you're not then we're only a phone call away if you need us! T: 01275 463601

Our Process in Three Easy Steps

1. Consultation

Lets get talking! We can discuss your requirements.

The best way to start your project is to get in contact with us. Either an email or phone call with as much information as you have available is great. Once we've a good idea of a few basic areas we can then look at moving onto stage 2 'getting a price' and a drawing of the board over to you.

2. Designs & Prices

We'll send you a quote and design proof.

Once we've established an idea of your requirements one of our graphic designers will commence work on producing an accurate drawing showing how your board will look. This will be sent to you along with a transparent quote. If you have any questions at all, we're just a phone call away.

3. Manufacture Begins!

If you're happy to proceed, we'll start manufacture.

We only proceed to manufacture once the design proof has been approved. Typically manufacture takes between 1 and 3 weeks depending on the complexity of the order and current workloads. We then securely package the boards individually in protective cases and send them to you.

Sometimes it's just easier to discuss your requirements with a person, and we're happy to help!

Frequently Asked Questions

1. What do the standard prices include?

Unlimited lettering, names, dates, years, lines etc at the time of manufacture.
Artwork time designing your honours board.
All fonts, vinyl colours and over 50 years of our expertise and help!

Optional extras include: Wood staining, bespoke frames and designs (to match existing boards), digitally printed logos.

2. What information do we need from you to draw up a design proof?

If you have a spreadsheet with the information you need on that board, that would be great! If not, then we just need to know what columns you need. ie: 1 x year, 2 x single winner, 1 x doubles winners.

3. Can we see a drawing of the board before we proceed?

Of course. We always produce a colour design proof. This will be emailed to you and we only proceed to manufacture when you're completely happy.

4. What are the lead times?

For a wooden honours board, our standard lead time is 2-3 weeks from proof approval and payment.

Acrylic honours boards take a little less at 1-2 weeks. Rush orders may be accommodated; please contact us to discuss your needs.

5. Do you deliver to the whole of the UK? Can we collect from you to avoid delivery costs?

Yes to both questions. Depending on the size of the order and where you are we may deliver the boards ourselves. If not then we'll use a globally recognised courier and the board/s will be exceptionally well packaged before dispatch. Likewise, if it's easier for you to collect from us, that's fine too!

6. Can we install the honours boards ourselves?

Absolutely! Installation is straightforward if you have basic DIY skills. We also offer professional installation if needed. Likewise, we're here if you need any advice.

7. How do we update the honours boards in the future?

Contact us with the information you need adding to the board. We keep all the artwork on file, so we'll have all the details to hand. We will then send a quote & design proof to you.

Once you're happy we'll send the lettering out to you which is easy to apply.

There is a video showing how to apply the lettering here.

How Many Names Can I Fit on a Board?

Below you'll see a selection of boards all at different board heights.

Above the boards are the board heights and also the approximate capacity PER COLUMN. ie: That's a guide to how many names / entries you can get in a single column of names from top to bottom. These are all based on the height of a capital letter being 12mm.

Larger lettering will use up more space and you get less names in a column, smaller lettering uses up less space and you'll get more names per column.

The gap at the top of the board allows a minimal space for competition titles and a board title & logo.

Acrylic boards tend to have a little more space (as they don't have a frame taking up some space), and so you can get around 3 more names on a board of the same height.

ie: Wooden honours board at 1200mm tall will give you 49 names in a column, an acrylic one would be approximately 52 names in a column,

Height of board: 1500mm
Capacity per column: 61 names

What are our customers saying?

Some of our customer testimonials from our Google Reviews

Excellent service - the sales team replied quickly to my enquiry and helped me with the basic spec for our honours board. The designers then worked with me to get it just right. The end result is fantastic, looks brilliant and is just what we wanted.

Charlworth and Crosswirth Cricket Club

I delivered an honours board which required 60+ names to be applied and received friendly and efficient advice with regard to the layout. Nothing was too much trouble and all the staff were exceptionally helpful with the board being sign written to my complete satisfaction. Thank you Signet Signs for making the transaction such a pleasant experience.

Signet Signs have produced Wimslow Bowling Club's new honours board. Great quality at a competitive price. Very quick to answer any questions and they understood the brief from the start. They were proactive and provided a couple of redrafts on the same day they were requested. Highly recommended.
